ADMINISTRATION

GREG BIBB

PRESIDENT & CEO

Greg Bibb enters his second season with the Dallas Wings, his first while serving as the organization's president and chief executive officer. Bibb, who joined the team in November of 2015 as general manager, leads all business and basketball initiatives for the team.

With an extensive background in sports, Bibb has been the guiding force for the Wings on-court initiatives, solidifying a talented and versatile roster as well as an experienced staff. His emphasis has been on forging roster flexibility through the acquisition of multiple first round draft picks while developing a young and athletic squad that plays an exciting style of basketball.

Bibb was instrumental in constructing a five-player rookie class in the 2017 draft that included three top 10 selections. The presence of all five draft picks on the Wings 2017 opening night roster marked the first time since 2000 that at least five drafted rookies secured spots on a team's regular season roster.

In his first season as general manager, Bibb began to put his stamp on the team by engineering a multi-faceted trade with the Los Angeles Sparks that delivered guard Erin Phillips and a 2017 first round draft pick. The deal also brought the fifth pick in the 2016 WNBA Draft, which resulted in the selection of 2016 WNBA All-Rookie team member Aerial Powers. He then further enhanced the team's 2017 draft position by adding another first round pick in a deal with the New York Liberty.

Bibb's work did not focus exclusively on the draft, as he has signed All-WNBA guard Skylar Diggins-Smith to a multi-year contract extension while also securing WNBA All-Star forward Glory Johnson through the 2018 season. Bibb also brought continuity within the coaching staff by inking Head Coach Fred Williams to a multi-year agreement prior to the 2016 season.

Outside of the Wings organization, Bibb serves as the chief executive officer of Capital Sports Ventures (CSV) and is on the company's board of managers. Prior to launching CSV, Bibb served three years as the executive vice president of business operations for the Washington Wizards and five seasons as the Washington Mystics chief operating officer. His responsibilities with both teams included overseeing numerous business functions for the organization, including marketing, communications, community relations, game operations, new media, video production, analytics and the camps and clinics program.

A 19-year veteran of the sports industry, Bibb joined the Mystics in 2007. Prior to his arrival in Washington, Bibb spent two years as the president of Hantz Group Sports & Entertainment where he was instrumental in the launch of the Detroit Ignition with the Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL). He also served as the executive vice president and general manager of the Philadelphia KiXX soccer team. Prior to joining the KiXX, he was the director of public and media relations with the Major Indoor Soccer League.

A native of Hershey, PA, Bibb was named a member of the Washington Business Journal's 2010 40 Under 40 class. He has served as a board member for various non-profit organizations, including Boys and Girls Clubs of Greater Washington, The Greater Washington Sports Alliance and Most Valuable Kids. Bibb has also spent time as an adjunct professor in the Sports Industry Management program at Georgetown University. He graduated Magna Cum Laude from Marist College. He and his wife Tara have a daughter, Adelyn, and a son, Caden.

OUR HOME

COLLEGE PARK CENTER

College Park Center, which opened in February of 2012, represents a dream come true for a generation of alumni, faculty, staff, and community members. And for the next generation of students, it offers a vision of great things to come. Located deep in the heart of downtown Arlington, its location was strategically chosen to help lure both the Arlington community and the nearly 33,000 UT Arlington college students to the revitalized downtown area.

College Park Center is home to the WNBA Dallas Wings and the University's men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams, and to numerous high-profile events and entertainment, conferences, and community activities.

As part of its commitment to academic excellence, the University has devoted significant space to an academic support study center with a study hall, computer lab, group study room, and areas for academic advising.

College Park Center is located in downtown Arlington in the College Park District, located to the east of the main UT Arlington campus and spanning more than 20 acres. The Center is surrounded by a wide variety of retail stores and restaurants.

Designed by Dallas, Texas architects, HKS, Inc., College Park Center is expected to meet LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) Gold standards, incorporating many energy-efficient features including low-emittance glazed windows, a highly reflective roof that reduces the solar load on the building, and a low-use water system. The building incorporates regional materials and includes native landscaping. The exterior mixes brick and stone exteriors with windows that stretch nearly the full height of the 50-foot building. The building is oriented to allow natural light to flow onto the concourses.

FAMILY FUN ENTERTAINMENT

The Dallas Wings provide an unique in-game experience, catering to a diverse fan base. Our family-friendly environment provides fans with 40 minutes of high-intensity basketball coupled with entertainment for fans of all ages. Whether for a casual night out or experiencing one of our many special theme nights, a Dallas Wings game will be one you won't forget.

The energy starts high with energy-pumping music that keeps players and fans energized. Our enthusiastic in-game talent bring the personality to keep the crowd pumped and engaged from tip-off to the final buzzer. With the addition of a range of interactive games and giveaways, there isn't a boring moment with the Wings!

IN THE COMMUNITY

DALLAS WINGS COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Dallas Wings Community Foundation is the philanthropic and charitable giving arm of the Dallas Wings. Its mission is to use the power of women's basketball to uplift families and unite communities in the Dallas-Fort Worth area through empowering women and girls; encouraging healthy life choices; and supporting youth basketball. Dallas Wings Community Foundation is the umbrella for all community outreach, including player, coach, and front office appearances; youth basketball clinics; and paid mascot and flight crew appearances.

LIGHTNING THE MASCOT

Lightning, the official mascot of the Dallas Wings, made her grand debut on May 20, 2017. Lightning flies in a lane of her own, with her bright personality and cheerful enthusiasm which inspires fans to get on their feet and rally behind the players from tip-off to the final buzzer.

Lightning has a unique origin. As a Pegasus, she represents Dallas-Fort Worth, where the winged horse flies high above the city. She believes in the strength of North Texas and of the Dallas Wings, encouraging fans to cheer on their team with the upmost support. Lightning brings the electricity to College Park Center that energize the arena. Feel the buzz? It's probably Lightning bringing the charge.

CITY OF ARLINGTON, TEXAS

Arlington is the new home for the Dallas Wings. It lies as the central principal city from the major metropolitan cities of Dallas and Fort Worth. It is also known as the homes to other sports teams and organizations like the Texas Rangers' Globe Life Park in Arlington, the Dallas Cowboys and the Goodyear Cotton Bowl Classic, at the AT&T Stadium, the International Bowling Campus (which houses the United States Bowling Congress, International Bowling Museum and the International Bowling Hall of Fame). It also hosts theme parks Six Flags Over Texas (the original Six Flags) and Hurricane Harbor.

The city of Arlington is also the home of the University of Texas at Arlington, a doctoral-granting research institution, the Arlington Assembly plant used by General Motors, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission Region IV, Texas Health Resources, and American Mensa.

Arlington was founded in 1876 along the Texas and Pacific Railway. The city was named after General Robert E. Lee's Arlington House in Arlington County, Virginia. Arlington grew as a cotton-ginning and farming center, and incorporated in 1884. The city could boast of water, electricity, natural gas, and telephone services by 1910, along with a public school system. By 1925 the population was estimated at 3,031, and it grew to over 4,000 before World War II.

Large-scale industrialization began in 1954 with the arrival of a General Motors assembly plant. Automotive and aerospace development gave the city one of the nation's greatest population growth rates between 1950 and 1990. Arlington became one of the "boomburbs", the extremely fast-growing suburbs of the post-World War II era. U.S. Census Bureau population figures for the city tell the story: 7,692 (1950), 90,229 (1970), 261,721 (1990), 365,438 (2010)[9] and almost 374,000 by 2011.[6] Tom Vandergriff served as mayor from 1951 to 1977 during this period of explosive development. Six Flags Over Texas opened in Arlington in 1961. In 1972 the Washington Senators baseball team relocated to Arlington and began play as the Texas Rangers and in 2009 the Dallas Cowboys also began to play at the newly constructed Cowboys Stadium, now AT&T Stadium.

Arlington borders Kennedale, Grand Prairie, Mansfield and Fort Worth, and surrounds the smaller communities of Dalworthington Gardens and Pantego.

FRED WILLIAMS

HEAD COACH

Fred Williams is entering his fourth season as head coach of the Dallas Wings. In January of 2014, Williams was named the seventh head coach in franchise history. Williams is the third-longest tenured coach for the organization and is entering his 14th season coaching in the WNBA.

Last season, Williams recorded his 100th victory as a WNBA head coach on September 9, 2016 in San Antonio, when the Wings defeated the Stars 92-84. Williams has a 101- 118 career record, including four seasons at or above a .500 winning percentage. During the Olympic break, Williams was asked to serve as one of the court coaches for the USA National Team in preparation for the 2016 Rio Olympic Games.

In his second season as head coach, Williams led the Shock to its best season in franchise history since moving to Tulsa in 2010. That year, Tulsa made its first playoff appearance after recording an 18-16 record, finishing third in the Western Conference.

A veteran WNBA coach, Williams previously served as head coach and general manager of the Atlanta Dream for two seasons (2012-2013). In his first season, he led the Dream to the playoffs, followed by a WNBA Finals appearance in 2013. Prior to being head coach with the Dream, he served an assistant coach from 2009-2012. During his time with Atlanta, the team appeared in eleven WNBA playoff games in six years.

A member of the Eastern Conference coaching staff for the 2011 WNBA All-Star game, Williams has been instrumental in the development of several Hall of Famers, including Cynthia Cooper, Pamela McGee, Cheryl Miller, Lisa Leslie and Tina Thompson.

Williams began his coaching career at the University of Southern California, where he served as an assistant coach for the women's basketball program during their back-to-back National Championships in 1983 and 1984. He would then return to USC as head coach from 1995-1997. In his final season, he took the Women of Troy to their 13th NCAA tournament appearance with a 20-9 overall record, where the team went 1-1 in the tournament.

In 1998, Williams started his WNBA stint as an assistant coach with the Utah Starzz (now San Antonio Stars). Following the '98 season, he was named head coach of the Starzz, where he served from 1999-2000 and part of the 2001 season. Overall, he earned a 36-37 (.493) regular season record.

Williams graduated from Boise State University in 1979, where he played two seasons as a guard under head coach Bus Conner, and was named to the All-Big Sky team as a player.

Williams is a native of Inglewood, CA. Off the court, he is an avid musician who produces jazz music under the name "Freddy Bass Williams." He has released two jazz albums titled "Game Time" and "My Gift to You." He and his wife Bo, an Atlanta native and a Who's Who of Atlanta honoree for the past four years, reside in Irving, Texas. They have f five children between them.

In her first two seasons at Phoenix, Pettis set key milestones for the organization with a club record of 154 consecutive games and starting in fifty-six of sixty games. Pettis was part of the Mercury team for five seasons before playing for the Indiana Fever 2002-2003. In 2006 Pettis hung up her basketball shoes and retired as a Phoenix Mercury player. That summer, the team hung a banner on Pettis' behalf to honor her for all the contributions she made for the organization.

In her eight seasons as a WNBA player, Pettis played in 228 games and scored 1,408 points.

Following her stellar career as a player, Pettis began her coaching career where she began her playing career, in Phoenix. As an assistant coach, Pettis won two WNBA Championships (2007 and 2009). She later served as director of basketball operations for the team for two seasons (2010-2011).

In 2013, Pettis served as an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Sparks for one season, before joining the Tulsa Shock coaching staff under Head Coach Fred Williams in 2014.

A graduate of the University of Florida, Pettis played for Coach Carol Ross, where she was named to the 1993 All-Southeastern Conference Team, and helped the Gators to a 19-10 record and earn their first ever NCAA Tournament berth. During her two-year, 53-game career at Florida (1991-93), Pettis recorded 804 points, 247 rebounds, 135 assists and 107 steals. 2016 // A YEAR IN REVIEW

With a multi-faced trade with the Los Angeles Sparks that delivered three-point specialist Erin Phillips, the fifth pick in the 2016 WNBA Draft, and first round selection in 2017, the Dallas Wings marched into the 2016 season full of promise. As preparations to solidify the 2016 roster continued, there were a couple of items the team needed to do: extend the contracts of all-star guard Skylar Diggins and forward Glory Johnson.

The Wings walked into the 2016 Draft with sights on their fifth pick, the very talented forward Aerial Powers out of Michigan State. The selection of Powers locked in the talent for 2016, which gave the team a solid roster going into training camp.

MAY

After playing two games in the preseason, the Wings kicked off the 2016 regular season on the road at 2-1, with wins in Indiana, (90-79) and in Washington (87-77). Two days later, they opened their inaugural season at home, defeating San Antonio, 82-77 in front a sold-out home crowd. Odyssey Sims and Courtney Paris both broke career records that night hitting the 1,000-point mark, and becoming the 10th and 11th players in franchise history to make the mark. Sims' 23 points that night broke a season high and marked as the second straight game that she would score 20 points or more. Eight days later, she would tie her season high vs Chicago. The Wings ended the month at home in front of a full crowd, finishing with a 3-3 record.

JUNE

Key wins included back-to-back feats over the Phoenix Mercury, a 117-111 triple-overtime win on the Mercury's home court. After an 0-4 start, the Wings turned it around, winning four straight. Other victories included wins over Seattle and San Antonio. The Wings finished at 1-3, taking a win in Seattle on June 30, and end the month with a 5-6 record. After only playing one game in May, Skylar Diggins would make her return to the court with impressive performances in Phoenix and Los Angeles. In the Wings triple-overtime win, Diggins led the team, knocking down 27 points and breaking a season high. In Los Angeles, she would break another season high and score 29 points in a close loss to the Sparks. Rookie Aerial Powers had stellar performances that included her first 20-point game as a Dallas Wing in Minnesota on June 4, followed by a 19-point game at the end of the month in Seattle. It was the first time she led the team in points for the season. Forward Karima Christmas also made season history, scoring 21 points against New York inside Madison Square Garden on June 14, then later tying her high at home against Indiana.

JULY

Glory Johnson became the first WNBA player to be part of the 20-20 club since 2013, breaking a franchise record for 20 or more rebounds in a single game. On July 5 against Phoenix, she scored 23 points and recorded 22 boards leading the Wings to their third straight win over Phoenix (77-74). Despite the 1-6 record in July, the Wings recorded individual milestones to put them among the best in franchise history. Veteran Plenette Pierson played her 400th game as a WNBA player when the Wings visited the Chicago Sky. Two days later, she would record her 600th offensive rebound, which placed her second in franchise history behind Cheryl Ford. Along with marking milestones, the Wings also traded second year guard Brianna Kiesel, and brought in Oklahoma State standout and former WNBA champion Tiffany Bias on July 27. In her second game as a Dallas Wing, she recorded a career high of 10 points vs. Atlanta. Also in that game, Skylar Diggins recorded 15 points in the first quarter, the most a Wings player had scored up to that point of the season in a single game. She ended the night tying her season high of 29 points.

AUGUST

Olympic Break.

SEPTEMBER

After a month-long Olympic break, the Wings returned to action, snapping an 11-game losing streak with a 92-84 victory over the San Antonio Stars. The win also gave Head Coach Fred Williams his 100th win as a WNBA head coach. Odyssey Sims led the team that night with 20 points. It was the 23rd time she had reached double figures in the season, and the seventh time she scored 20 or more points in a game. The Wings would go on and defeat third-ranked New York (84-81) two days later at home. Guard Skylar Diggins played her 100th game in her WNBA career against the Liberty that day, scoring 22 points. It was the sixth time in the season she had recorded 20 points or more in a single game. Dallas ended the regular season on the road with visits to Connecticut and Indiana, taking losses on both games, to finish the month at 2-4 and 11-23 overall.

LEAGUE HISTORY & INFORMATION

HISTORY

On April 24, 1996, women's basketball announced "We Got Next" as the NBA Board of Governors approved the concept of a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) to begin play in June 1997.
Since that day in 1996, there have been many firsts for the WNBA: Val Ackerman -- the first president of the WNBA Sheryl Swoopes -- the first player signed to the WNBA Cynthia Cooper -- the league's first Most Valuable Player Houston Comets -- the first WNBA champions Lisa Leslie -- the first WNBA player to dunk (July 30 2002 vs. Miami) Lauren Jackson -- the first international player to win MVP (2007) Candace Parker -- the first rookie to earn the league's MVP honor (2008) Sylvia Fowles -- the first goaltending call (June 3, 2008 vs. L.A.)

The inaugural WNBA season tipped off on June 21, 1997, with the New York Liberty taking on the Los Angeles Sparks at the Great Western Forum in Inglewood, Calif. A crowd of 14,284 watched as Sparks guard Penny Toler scored the first basket in WNBA history. The Liberty defeated the Sparks, 67-57.

Fifteen years later, in a rematch of those same two teams at Staples Center in Los Angeles, the increased skill, talent, and athleticism of WNBA players was evident as the Sparks, led by center/forward Candace Parker, defeated the Liberty 96-91. In 2011, the league also selected its "Top 15 Players of All Time." Voting was conducted among fans, media, and current players and coaches. Those named to the list were Sue Bird, Tamika Catchings, Cynthia Cooper, Yolanda Griffith, Becky Hammon, Lauren Jackson, Lisa Leslie, Ticha Penicheiro, Cappie Pondexter, Katie Smith, Dawn Staley, Sheryl Swoopes, Diana Taurasi, Tina Thompson, and Teresa Weatherspoon.

A GROWING GAME

The influence of the WNBA can be seen in the explosive growth of organized women's basketball over the past 14 seasons. An estimated 100 million women play basketball worldwide, and the league reflects this trend, featuring 15 international players from six countries and territories at the start of the 2011 season. Female AAU youth basketball participation has increased 277 percent since 1991 (from 28,840 to 108,758 players). Female high school basketball participation has increased 17 percent since 1991 (from 387,802 to 456,967 players). And female NCAA basketball participation has increased 43 percent since 1991 (from 10,551 to 15,096 players).

Other All-Star Games were played in Phoenix (2000), Orlando (2001), and at Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn. (2009). Due to the Olympics, no All-Star Game was held in 2004 and 2008, although Radio City Music Hall in New York City was the site of an exhibition game on August 5, 2004, as the U.S. National Team, comprised mainly of WNBA greats, faced a squad of WNBA All-Stars in "WNBA vs. USA Basketball: The Game at Radio City." On Aug. 22, 2011 the WNBA and Boost Mobile, an industry leader in no-contract wireless service, announced a landmark multiyear marketing partnership that makes Boost Mobile the first leaguewide marquee partner of the WNBA. As the league's most prominent partner, Boost Mobile is tied closely to the WNBA brand on a national level. As part of this partnership, the Boost Mobile brand is prominently featured on the front of the game jerseys of 10 teams. Additionally, special programming highlighting the "WNBA's Top 15 Moments presented by Boost Mobile" is included as part of the league's 15th season celebration.

The WNBA has an extensive, highly integrated relationship with adidas. The sporting goods and apparel giant has served as the official outfitter of the WNBA, having unveiled new uniforms across the league in 2007 and again in 2011. In 2008, adidas became the first-ever presenting partner of the WNBA's entire postseason, including both the playoffs and Finals, and was the presenting partner for the 2011 WNBA All-Star Game.

Five WNBA teams have entered the league's Marquee Partnership program, which includes multiyear deals featuring branded sponsorship of game jerseys – the Phoenix Mercury partnering with Casino Arizona and Talking Stick Resort, the Los Angeles Sparks with Farmers Insurance Group, the Seattle Storm with Microsoft search engine Bing, the New York Liberty with Foxwoods Resort Casino, San Antonio Stars with H-E-B and the Washington Mystics with Inova Health System.

ATTENDANCE/TV RATINGS

In 2011, WNBA attendance increased for the fifth consecutive year and regular-season TV viewership on ESPN2 reached its highest level since 2005, as fans responded to one of the most compelling seasons in the league's 15-year history. Viewership for the league's showcase events also increased. Viewership for the WNBA All-Star Game on ABC was up 46 percent vs. the last All-Star on ABC in 2009 (there was no All-Star Game in 2010). Viewership for the 2011 WNBA Finals was up four percent over the 2010 championship series. U.S. ratings for the first round of the 2011 WNBA Draft on ESPN increased 47 percent vs. the first round of 2010 Draft on ESPN2.

The WNBA's broadcast coverage in 2011 included more than two dozen high-definition regular-season playoffs and Finals games on ESPN2 and ABC, as well as 70 regular-season games and up to six playoff games on NBA TV. In addition, all WNBA games were available online via WNBA LiveAccess unless: (a) They were televised on ABC or ESPN2 – in which case they streamed live on ESPN3.com and were later archived to WNBA.com, or (b) Their game window fell within a national broadcast window on ABC or ESPN2.

In July 2007, the WNBA signed a new, eight-year TV deal with ESPN that tipped off in 2009 and runs through 2016, the WNBA's 20th season. The agreement, which calls for ABC, ESPN, and ESPN2 to telecast WNBA games, includes rights fees, a first for any women's professional team sports league in the U.S.

WNBA Digital assets continued to increase in popularity as WNBA.com saw continued growth during the 2011 season, with daily unique visits up 13 percent and overall visits up 11 percent.
